About vertX IQ

vertX IQ AG was founded in 2021 and is based in Zug. The company provides a SaaS platform that is used by institutional investors. The platform is primarily aimed at pension funds, insurance companies, family offices and other institutional investors and supports them in strategic and operational decision-making processes. The investment side and liabilities are linked via a central platform. The main advantage of this solution is that all relevant data is brought together in one place, which means strategic and operational decisions can be made faster and on an up-to-date factual basis.

The Role

We are looking for a Product Manager with expertise in Swiss pension funds to drive the development of our SaaS product. You will manage product strategy, develop AI-powered tools and provide solutions that enhance pension fund decision-making processes in taking into consideration their liabilities and their asset allocation strategy. You will additionally also be the domain expert for our clients and their subject matter related inquiries. You will be interacting directly with the CEO, CIO, trustee board and other management and team members of pension funds.

Key Responsibilities

- Own the product roadmap, ensuring alignment with pension fund needs and regulations.
- Develop tools for controlling, monitoring, and benchmarking pension fund performance.
- Integrate P&L, balance sheet, and ALM (Asset Liability Management) features into the platform.
- Implement AI-driven functionalities to improve data insights, automate reporting, and enhance predictive modeling.
- Engage with pension fund stakeholders to gather insights and validate product features.
- Leverage your expertise in the Swiss pension fund industry to drive product adoption and market relevance.
- Collaborate with engineering, sales, and advisory teams to launch new features and products.

Qualifications

- 4-6 years of experience in investment management, controlling, or ALM within Swiss pension funds.
- Strong understanding of pension fund P&L, balance sheets, and governance.
- Expertise in benchmarking, investment analysis, and financial reporting.
- You demonstrate technological savviness, quickly adapting to new tools, software, and data-driven environments.
- Fluent in German (mandatory) and English.

What we offer you

- Dynamic Work Environment – Flexible hybrid model in Zug.
- Entrepreneurial Role – Opportunities to shape product strategy, technology development and grow with the company.
- Competitive Compensation – Market-aligned salary with equity participation.

Interested?

Send your CV and a short and structured personal statement (motivation letter) outlining why you are the ideal candidate for this position. We are looking forward to your application!
